Patriotism and Treason.

Amid the thousand grievous evils consequent upon this war, one thing at least is calculated to give the friends of republican institutions great satisfaction, and inspire them with unbounded hope. It is the exalted patriotism which is exhibited on all sides, and by men of every political party.

In this time of danger to our government, while its very existence is threatened, our countrymen begin to appreciate, in some small measure, the value of such a government; to set some sort of an estimate upon the blessings it is capable of conferring upon us. It is true there are some croakers left; men who carry the bitterness of party to the extent of still denouncing the government, of doing what they can, in a small way, to paralyze the efforts of its noble defenders; but their number is small, and their character is despicably insignificant.

And the universal loathing with which such men are regarded is one of the best evidences that the popular heart is right.

In times of peace we have been accustomed to listen with calmness to the most stinging criticisms upon the acts of our public men, and the coarsest denunciations of their character and motives; but such things are hardly to be tolerated now. An honest indignation exhibits itself upon the first expression of disloyalty, and upon the first indication of sympathy with this great rebellion, and the man who cannot forget party long enough to stand by the government in its efforts to suppress this rebellion, has treason in his heart.

We have heard, indeed, that we had those among us who, at the time of the Bull Run disaster, rejoiced over our defeat; but we cannot believe it. Our atmosphere is not the kind for such creatures to breathe, and it hardly looks reasonable that they should be found so far from their friends. But if there are in reality such men in our midst, it is high time the public knew it. We deprecate unlawful measures; we will not sanction or encourage them; but sentiments fraught with so much danger to the public welfare will be suppressed. If we have no laws against such crimes, public sentiment will make a law, and will execute it, too. It is no time to deal softly with traitors; there is no occasion to suffer disloyalty to root and spread itself among us. We might as well suffer the food we eat and the air we breathe to be poisoned, as to permit the growth of so noxious a sentiment. No. Let us be loyal. Let us come up as one man to the support of the government. Laying aside all party jealousies, let us cordially unite in strengthening the bonds that are put forth in our defense, and when called upon, put forth our own in this great cause. And if there are those still among us whose hearts and voices are with the enemies of our country, let them see and feel that this is not a climate congenial to treason. But there is no need of any resort to popular violence. The grand jury of Green county have already indicted several persons for treason in that county, among them one Alfred Goddard, and these indictments are not for acts, but for words spoken in endeavoring to prevent volunteers from enlisting in the army of the government. Our own grand jury will undoubtedly have the same matter brought before them, and should the proof be clear enough to warrant indictment, conviction will follow.

An Unfounded Rumor.

The report by telegraph that Gen. Fremont had been superseded in consequence of having exceeded his authority in issuing his celebrated proclamation, produced considerable excitement in this city, until it was contradicted.

From the expressions of opinion we believe the people here are nearly unanimous in sustaining Fremont in the course he has taken to suppress the rebellion in Missouri. And it is equally certain that the administration would lose nearly all its friends if it should displace Gen. Fremont. When it comes to the conclusion to do so, on the causes stated in the dispatch, it might as well make its will and appoint its executors, for, having lost the confidence of the great mass of the loyal people of the north, it could not carry on the government a week.

The committee recommend that the primary meetings for the selection of delegates be held on or before the 15th day of September, and that the district committees issue early calls for such meetings, that the people may thoroughly be informed, and choose delegates who fully reflect their wishes.

Patriotism and Treason.

Amid the thousand grievous evils consequent upon this war, one thing at least is calculated to give the friends of republican institutions great satisfaction, and inspire them with unbounded hope. It is the exalted patriotism which is exhibited on all sides, and by men of every political party.

In this time of danger to our government, while its very existence is threatened, our countrymen begin to appreciate, in some small measure, the value of such a government; to set some sort of an estimate upon the blessings it is capable of conferring upon us. It is true there are some croakers left; men who carry the bitterness of party to the extent of still denouncing the government, of doing what they can, in a small way, to paralyze the efforts of its noble defenders; but their number is small, and their character is despicably insignificant. And the universal loathing with which such men are regarded is one of the best evidences that the popular heart is right.

In times of peace we have been accustomed to listen with calmness to the most stinging criticisms upon the acts of our public men, and the coarsest denunciations of their character and motives; but such things are hardly to be tolerated now. An honest indignation exhibits itself upon the first expression of disloyalty, and upon the first indication of sympathy with this great rebellion, and the man who cannot forget party long enough to stand by the government in its efforts to suppress this rebellion, has treason in his heart.

We have heard, indeed, that we had those among us who, at the time of the Bull Run disaster, rejoiced over our defeat; but we cannot believe it. Our atmosphere is not the kind for such creatures to breathe, and it hardly looks reasonable that they should be found so far from their friends. But if there are in reality such men in our midst, it is high time the public knew it. We depurate unlawful measures; we will not sanction or encourage them; but sentiments fraught with so much danger to the public welfare will be suppressed. If we have no laws against such crimes, public sentiment will make a law, and will execute it. It is no time to deal softly with traitors; there is no occasion to suffer disloyalty to root and spread itself among us. We might as well suffer the food we eat and the air we breathe to be poisoned, as to permit the growth of so noxious a sentiment. No. Let us be loyal. Let us come up as one man to the support of the government. Laying aside all party jealousy, let us cordially unite in strengthening the bonds that are put forth in our defense, and when called upon, put forth our own in this great cause. And if there are those still among us whose hearts and voices are with the enemies of our country, let them see and feel that this is not a climate congenial to treason. But there is no need of any resort to popular violence. The grand jury of Green county have already indicted several persons for treason in that county, among them one Alfred Goddard, and these indictments are not for acts, but for words spoken in endeavoring to prevent volunteers from enlisting in the army of the government. Our own grand jury will undoubtedly have the same matter brought before them, and should the proof be clear enough to warrant indictment, conviction will follow.

An Unfounded Rumor.

The report by telegraph that Gen. Fremont had been superseded in consequence of having exceeded his authority in issuing his celebrated proclamation, produced considerable excitement in this city, until it was contradicted.

From the expressions of opinion we believe the people here are nearly unanimous in sustaining Fremont in the course he has taken to suppress the rebellion in Missouri. And it is equally certain that the administration would lose nearly all its friends if it should displace Gen. Fremont. When it comes to the conclusion to do so, it might as well make its will and appoint its executors, for, having lost the confidence of the great mass of the loyal people of the north, it could not carry on the government a week.

We did not believe, for a moment, that there could be any truth in the rumor, but the fact that the public mind was in doubt about it, is not creditable to the administration. It ought to have a policy so well defined that no more sensational dispatch like that could shake the confidence of the people, it should lead its generals in conducting the war, and not make it necessary for them to take the initiative in measures necessary to save the government from destruction. The contradiction of the report was received with lively satisfaction by our people.

MUNSON'S HILL.—Munson's Hill, the occupation of which by the rebels has attracted so much attention, is just in the rear of Bailey's Cross Roads, and immediately in front of Arlington, at a distance of about three miles and a half. The position commands both of the roads to Fairfax Court House, both by Ball's Church and that by Bailey's Cross Roads, and having been entrenched indicates the resolution of the rebel leaders not to suffer our army to make its way as far as Ball's Run a second time. The battery seizes both to check an advance from Washington, and cover the enemy's communication in case they were threatened upon his undertaking an attack at the Chain Bridge.

THE CREDIT OF THE GOVERNMENT.—The London Economist says that if the north has credit and the south no credit, this advantage more than counterbalances ten Massassas defeats. But in reality the north has the ready cash; and it does not intend to be indebted to foreign capitalists for the means to carry on the war. The subscriptions to the national loan in New York on Saturday amounted to $2,302,096. In Philadelphia people are anxious to invest in the loan, and the subscriptions already amount to about three millions. And the treasury notes are bound to go like hot cakes. Every man, woman and child who can raise fifty dollars will want to be a creditor of the government.

RIVER GUNBOATS.—The six gun-boats building at St. Louis are rapidly approaching completion. They are of a peculiar construction, their bows being similar to the light-draught Mississippi steamers, and their upper works being angular, in the shape of an equilateral triangle. These boats will be plated with 24 inch wrought iron, and the bows will be encased in steel, the whole structure being so light that they will not draw over four feet when they have received their entire armament. From the shape of them, as they appear; no shot or shell of any calibre could be productive of any damage. Such days have their peculiar sanctities,—more than this, they have their recognized and favored abuses of popular institutions and prerogative, and the fiercest or foulest sheet that is scribbled in the coal-hole or the gurret, as well as the most faithless citizen among us may be permitted, the one to scatter broadcast, and the other to drop in crevices and corners, the seeds of disaffection against the government, without the commonwealth incurring any detriment.

At bat in time of war—above all in time of civil war—the supremacy of the government should be the sole grand object; and to this end, martial law should be the highest law and the only one in undisputed force. Who speaks about his rights as a passenger—about his bag of money, his chest of books and clothes, the photographs of his wife and children, his live stock or bales of merchandise, when the steamship has met with a collision, and threatens to go down, must be cleared of every embarrassment and dead weight, and all hands are summoned to the rescue!

You know it well. I assert it without fear of contradiction from any quarter; and those who have had most latitude and impunity, were they frank and generous, would be the first to own it. The national government has suffered more from the pugnacious, the lenient and the magnanimous practiced towards its enemies and those who are in sympathy and league with them, than it has been from the courage, the science, the fierce energy of those who have taken the field against it and victoriously shaken the banner of revolt and reputation in its face. The masked conspirators of the north are infinitely more criminal and mischievous than the bold and armed rebs of the south—and democratic as I am, spurning the republicanism of the Chicago convention as a spurious creed, having no sympathy whatever with the men in power, other than those which should subsist between the citizen and his government, I would promptly and cordially approve the severest measures the president might adopt, to paralyze the treachery which in this and other cities, under various liberal and benevolent pretenses, has been and is still at work to undermine and overthrow the legitimate magistracy of the nation.

Gen. H. C. Bull, formerly of this city, has enlisted for the war, and is a first lieutenant in a company formed at Independence, Iowa. He is likely to receive the appointment of major of his regiment.

It is said, and we hope it is true, that there is some probability that Wisconsin will get the benefit of the swamp lands which Gov. Randall caused to be surveyed some year or two since.

Rifled cannon of great capacity are now being supplied to our navy in large numbers. Eighty pounds have been turned out in the navy yard at Washington, and tested by Com. Dahlgren. These effective weapons will far exceed all others in range and accuracy.

We advise the operators of this Union movement to compel Booth to keep within his own kennel.—Madison Patriot.

The same advice is given on the other side in relation to Pamp Carpenter. We have heard the friends of the Union movement declare that if Pamp Carpenter and Booth had kept out of the convention, all would have been well.

PROCLAMATION.

HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPT., U. S. A., St. Louis, September, 12, 1861.

The Major General commanding the department, having satisfactory evidence that Thos. L. Sneed, of this city and county of St. Louis, and State of Missouri, has been taking active part with the enemies of the United States in the present insurrectionary movement against its government, and the military commission now in session at the arsenal in this city having reported the facts to these headquarters, as the result of its deliberations, the major general commanding has executed and ordered to be published the following deeds of manumission:

Last Night's Report.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.

The Commercial Advertiser has the following paragraph:

We learn that a rumor was prevalent in Washington yesterday, that Gen. Fremont is to be superseded in his command, and that Quartermaster Gen. Meigs is to take his place.

We have also what we deem good authority for saying that this rumor, unlike many others, is founded on fact, and that Mr. Blair, at whose earnest recommendation Gen. Fremont was placed where he is, will accompany Gen. Meigs in order to explain to Gen. Fremont the reasons and the necessity for this step. These reasons, we think it will be found, are that Gen. Fremont exceeded his authority by the proclamations he issued, that being the main reason; and that he is in other respects acted in important matters not only without consulting the government, but in contravention of its orders and practice.

Marshal Kane, of Baltimore, and several other prisoners, were to-day received at La Fayette.

COL. PEGRAM and twenty-five other prisoners were sent to Governor's Island.

The bark Alice Tinker, of Liverpool, was seized by the surveyor's officers on her arrival last evening.

Special to the Post.—The mule and horse contracts for the army will be investigated by the congressional committee. It is rumored that gross frauds have been discovered.

Mr. Alvord, the superintendent of the overland mail route is here, and reports that fifteen hundred regular troops are on their way from Utah to the east.

The steamer Champion, from Aspinwall, on the 5th, had arrived, with over two hundred passengers, and $10,000 in treasure.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.

The report circulated that Gen. Fremont is to be superseded by Meigs is contradicted by the highest authority. Meigs' visit to the west is on business connected with his department.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.

The telegram to the post office department from St. Louis, says no mails have yet passed over the Hannibal & St. Joseph R. R., and that the prospect of a renewal of the service on the route is bad.

TROY, Sept. 13.

Over $50,000 was subscribed in this city to-day for the national loan, on the opening of the books by the United States agent.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.

Capt. Foster, of Col. Mankin's regiment of Franklin county home guards, brought in seven prisoners last night, who were directed from Hardee's army. They report that a fight had occurred in Hardee's army between the Missourians and Louisianians in the battle at Springfield. The Louisianians charging them with cowardice and treating them as cowards in camp. The Missourians actually took their horses and fled. Hardee was falling back on Pocahontas when the Missourians dispersed with the intention of returning home under Gamble's proclamation, and becoming good citizens, but were informed here that the governor's proclamation was abrogated by declaring martial law.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 13.

The governor yesterday vetoed the resolutions in reference to confederate troops both houses then passed them over his veto.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.

W. H. Winder, recently arrested for his loyalty to the government, was sent to Fort Lafayette this afternoon. His correspondence seems to have been very extensive with Jeff Davis, Breckinridge and other prominent secessionists. The copies of his own letters and the original of his correspondents are in the possession of the federal authorities. In his letters he pledges his warmest sympathies with the rebels.

He assures Breckinridge that his course in the service is approved by large numbers of the best men of the north, who are only waiting for an opportunity to overthrow the rebel rule.

Hudson, Mo., Sept. 12.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat furnishes the following items: An agent from Glasgow informs us that Martin Green, at the head of 9,000 mounted rebels, crossed the Missouri river at that place on Wednesday and moved southward. He took possession of the steamer Sunshine, which was lying at Glasgow, and used it for transporting his men and horses over the river. On board the Sunshine were 400 stand of arms, four or five rebel prisoners and a federal guard of four men. Green released the rebels and took the guards prisoners.

At West Ely, Marion county, Col. Moore's home guards, this evening fell in with a party of from 75 to 100 secessionists.

Moore had 20 men and immediately gave battle, routing the rebels, who scattered in all directions. Two of Moore's men were killed. It is not known how many of the rebels suffered as it was dark at the time.

The bridge over the Platte river will be repaired by Saturday. Green disavows all connection with the burning or firing into trains.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat furnishes the following intelligence:

A messenger from Col. Mulligan at Lexington, reports Gen. Price's advance guard reached Warrenton on Tuesday, and Chaff. Jackson made a speech. Price claims to have 16,000 men, and his main body is approaching Lexington.

The messenger brings an official account of a skirmish between the rebels and Gen. Price's advance guard, at Fort Scott, which post they have abandoned, and adds:

This relieves me of the necessity of pursuing them into Kansas, the soil of which I am unwilling to invade, unless her citizens shall provoke me to do so by committing renewed outrages on the people of this state; in that event I shall not only cross the border, but will lay waste their farms, and utterly destroy the cities and towns of that state.

THE ZOUAVE DRILL LAST NIGHT.—Notwithstanding the rain of last evening, the Zouave's farewell drill came off as published, and much to the gratification audience. Many members from a slight misunderstanding, came into the army late but gallantly, to gratify our citizens who had assembled in large numbers to witness for the last time, the evolutions of this popular company.

Three hundred spectators were present on the occasion, and they gave frequent evidence of their pleasure at the surprising proficiency in execution of different movements attained in the short period of three months. The entertainment reassured our citizens of the careful, constant drill to which many of their sons and brothers have been subjected, and reflected great credit not only upon the men, but upon the skillful officers whose untiring zeal has made for the company a reputation inferior to none yet sent forward from this vicinity.

The company is rapidly filling up for the war, and will soon be ordered into quarters. The men are young, active and intelligent, and under their present efficient officers will remain as they are, a credit to themselves, their friends, and the cause in which they are enlisted. Among them are many of our most prominent young men.

Let them go forth, and may God protect and strengthen them in the virtue of their cause!

THE NEW REGIMENT.—We are informed by members of the committee for raising the new regiment in Rock and Green counties, that five hundred volunteers are now ready to go into camp, and the number is constantly increasing. The camp equipage is not yet ready, Gov. Randall having no idea that the men would be forthcoming so soon. The committee have acted with most commendable promptitude and energy, and have received most efficient aid in this work from the several town committees appointed for the purpose.

A GENEROUS AND PATRIOTIC DEED.—Mr. Guy Wheeler, of La Prairie, has presented to Dr. H. Palmer of this city, surgeon of the seventh regiment, a valuable four year old horse, to be used by the Doctor while with his regiment during the war. This is a generous act on the part of Mr. Wheeler, evincing a liberality highly commendable indeed. Those who know Mr. W. will not be surprised, however, as he is noted for his love of good horses as well as his patriotism and public spirit. "Old Rock" sends one of her best men to the field of duty, and he sacrifices much for his country in accepting the appointment. Mr. W. desires, we presume, to divide the sacrifice with him, so far as he can, and he does so in this appropriate and acceptable manner. It is a good deed worthy of mention and imitation.

EVANSVILLE LIGHT GUARD.—Lieut. E. W. Blake, of the Evansville Light Guard, and twenty men, came in to day, and are quartered at the Stevens House. It is proposed to fill up the company at Evansville, and join the Rock and Green county regiment. Lieut. Blake was with the first regiment, and has the appearance of a good officer. The volunteers are fine, soldierly looking young men, farmer's sons, who will do honor to "Old Rock" in the war against rebellion.

The Band of Hope will meet at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, in the Methodist church. The pastors of the city and the friends of the children are requested to meet with us. O. J. DEARBORN.

WAR MEETINGS.

A meeting in aid of the movement to free the new regiment will be held: At Edgerton, on TUESDAY, September 17th, at 7 o'clock P. M.

At Maxonville, on MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 16th.

Good speakers will be present at the above meetings.

FREMONT'S BARRICADES.—To the Editor of the Chicago Tribune.—I have read with indignation your article, in your issues of the 10th, 11th and 12th inst., in relation to the difficulty of address to Gen. Fremont. You know, Messrs., more than you think you do. I only know that Gen. Fremont has been assigned the duty of planting the Stars and Stripes over New Orleans before the 8th of January next, and that duty, God help him, will perform.

I know that Gen. Fremont is easy of access by all who have business with him relating to the great duty referred to. To the thousand and one persons who have no business of that nature, including editors, professional politicians and leaders of all degree, he is no doubt difficult of access.

I am rejoiced to learn that one Colonel has been cashiered for breaking through the barricade, and I wish the whole crew who are annoying him were impressed into the service as "high privates." The public may be assured that a man who can ride on horseback 500 miles in four consecutive days, is not the man to fall in what he undertakes.

"The Loud reigned, let the earth rejoice." Fremont is alive, and awake, let us rejoice!

COL. WILCOX.—A letter was received in Detroit on the 10th, from the gallant Colonel Wilcox, dated Richmond, Aug. 29th.—The Colonel states that he is yet in the hospital, but is getting along quite comfortably, and expects soon to be transferred to the general rendezvous of the prisoners. His arm is slowly healing, and the use of it will not be lost, although not able yet to do anything with it.

The prisoners are divided as in the army into masses. That of Col. Wilcox comprises, beside himself, Capt. Withington, Dr. Squall, Capt. Hicketts, and Mrs. Ricketts, who, on hearing of her husband's being wounded, passed the enemy's line and gave herself up as a prisoner in order to be with him.

WILCOX.—A letter was received in Detroit on the 10th, from the gallant Colonel Wilcox, dated Richmond, Aug. 29th.—The Colonel states that he is yet in the hospital, but is getting along quite comfortably, and expects soon to be transferred to the general rendezvous of the prisoners. His arm is slowly healing, and the use of it will not be lost, although not able yet to do anything with it.

The prisoners are divided as in the army into masses. That of Col. Wilcox comprises, beside himself, Capt. Withington, Dr. Squall, Capt. Hicketts, and Mrs. Ricketts, who, on hearing of her husband's being wounded, passed the enemy's line and gave herself up as a prisoner in order to be with him.

The Zouave Drill Last Night.—Notwithstanding the rain of last evening, the Zouave's farewell drill came off as published, and much to the gratification audience. Many members from a slight misunderstanding, came into the army late but gallantly, to gratify our citizens who had assembled in large numbers to witness for the last time, the evolutions of this popular company.

Three hundred spectators were present on the occasion, and they gave frequent evidence of their pleasure at the surprising proficiency in execution of different movements attained in the short period of three months. The entertainment reassured our citizens of the careful, constant drill to which many of their sons and brothers have been subjected, and reflected great credit not only upon the men, but upon the skillful officers whose untiring zeal has made for the company a reputation inferior to none yet sent forward from this vicinity.

The company is rapidly filling up, for the war, and will soon be ordered into quarters. The men are young, active and intelligent, and under their present efficient officers will remain as they are, a credit to themselves, their friends, and the cause in which they are enlisted. Among them are many of our most prominent young men.

Let them go forth, and may God protect and strengthen them in the virtue of their cause!

THE NEW REGIMENT.—We are informed by members of the committee for raising the new regiment in Rock and Green counties, that five hundred volunteers are now ready to go into camp, and the number is constantly increasing. The camp equipage is not yet ready, Gov. Randall having no idea that the men would be forthcoming so soon. The committee have acted with most commendable promptitude and energy, and have received most efficient aid in this work from the several town committees appointed for the purpose.

A GENEROUS AND PATRIOTIC DEED.—Mr. Guy Wheeler, of La Prairie, has presented to Dr. H. Palmer of this city, surgeon of the seventh regiment, a valuable four year old horse, to be used by the Doctor while with his regiment during the war. This is a generous act on the part of Mr. Wheeler, evincing a liberality highly commendable indeed. Those who know Mr. W. will not be surprised, however, as he is noted for his love of good horses as well as his patriotism and public spirit. "Old Rock" sends one of her best men to the field of duty, and he sacrifices much for his country in accepting the appointment. Mr. W. desires, we presume, to divide the sacrifice with him, so far as he can, and he does so in this appropriate and acceptable manner. It is a good deed worthy of mention and imitation.

EVANSVILLE LIGHT GUARD.—Lieut. E. W. Blake, of the Evansville Light Guard, and twenty men, came in to-day, and are quartered at the Stevens House. It is proposed to fill up the company at Evansville, and join the Rock and Green county regiment. Lieut. Blake was with the first regiment, and has the appearance of a good officer. The volunteers are fine, soldierly looking young men, farmer's sons, who will do honor to "Old Rock" in the war against rebellion.

The Band of Hope will meet at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, in the Methodist church. The pastors of the city and the friends of the children are requested to meet with us. O. J. DEARBORN.

H. W. above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt in paying companies.

They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits.

In point of solvency and responsibility, no company in the world can compare with them.

They are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable to sudden and violent depreciation.

Companies entering the field of competition, will easily fall into岐路 by publishing partial and one-sided statements, and thereby give a false impression of their position, and run the risk of being exposed to the public.

Partial and one-sided, and forms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

Patriotism and Treason.

Amid the thousand grievous evils consequent upon this war, one thing at least is calculated to give the friends of republican institutions great satisfaction, and inspire them with unbound hope. It is the exalted patriotism which is exhibited on all sides, and by men of every political party. In this time of danger to our government, while its very existence is threatened, our countrymen begin to appreciate, in some small measure, the value of such a government; to set some sort of an estimate upon the blessings it is capable of conferring upon us. It is true there are some croakers left; men who carry the bitterness of party to the extent of still denouncing the government, of doing what they can, in a small way, to paralyze the efforts of its noble defenders; but their number is small, and their character is despicably insignificant. And the universal loathing with which such men are regarded is one of the best evidences that the popular heart is right.

In times of peace we have been accustomed to listen with calmness to the most stinging criticisms upon the acts of our public men, and the coarsest denunciations of their character and motives; but such things are hardly to be tolerated now. An honest indignation exhibits itself upon the first expression of disloyalty, and upon the first indication of sympathy with this great rebellion, and the man who cannot forget party long enough to stand by the government in its efforts to suppress this rebellion, has treason in his heart.

We have heard, indeed, that we had those among us, at the time of the Bull Run disaster, rejoiced over our defeat; but we cannot believe it. Our atmosphere is not the kind for such creatures to breathe, and it hardly looks reasonable that they should be found so far from their friends. But if there are in reality such men in our midst, it is high time the public knew it. We deprecate unlawful measures; we will not sanction or encourage them; but sentiments fraught with so much danger to the public welfare will be suppressed. If we have no laws against such crimes, public sentiment will make a law, and will execute it, too. It is no time to deal softly with traitors; there is no occasion to suffer disloyalty to root and spread itself among us. We might as well suffer the food we eat and the air we breathe to be poisoned, as to permit the growth of so noxious a sentiment. No. Let us be so loyal. Let us come up as one man to the support of the government. Laying aside all party jealousies, let us cordially unite in strengthening the hands that are put forth in our defense, and when called upon, put forth our own in this great cause. And if there are those still among us whose hearts and voices are with the enemies of our country, let them see and feel that this is not a climate congenial to treason. But there is no need of any resort to popular violence. The grand jury of Green county have already indicted several persons for treason in that county, among them one Alfred Goddard, and these indictments are not for acts, but for words spoken in endeavoring to prevent volunteers from enlisting in the army of the government. Our own grand jury will undoubtedly have the same matter brought before them, and should the proof be clear enough to warrant indictment, conviction will follow.

Unfounded Rumor.

The report by telegraph that Gen. Fremont had been superseded in consequence of having exceeded his authority in issuing his celebrated proclamation, produced considerable excitement in this city, until it was contradicted.

From the expressions of opinion we believe the people here are nearly unanimous in sustaining Fremont in the course he has taken to suppress the rebellion in Missouri. And it is equally certain that the administration would lose nearly all its friends if it should displace Gen. Fremont. When it comes to the conclusion to do so, it might as well make its will and appoint its executors, for, having lost the confidence of the great mass of the loyal people of the north, it could not carry on the government a week.

We did not believe, for a moment, that there could be any truth in the rumor, but the fact that the public mind was in doubt about it, is not creditable to the administration. It ought to have a policy so well defined that no more sensational dispatch like this could shake the confidence of the people; it should lead its generals in conducting the war, and not make it necessary for them to take the initiative in measures necessary to save the government from destruction. The contradiction of the report was received with lively satisfaction by our people.

MUNSON'S HILL.—Munson's Hill, the occupation of which by the rebels has attracted so much attention, is just in the rear of Bailey's Cross Roads, and immediately front of Arlington, at a distance of about three miles and a half. The position commands both of the roads to Fairfax Court House, both by Fall's Church and that by Bailey's Cross Roads, and having been entrenched indicates the resolution of the rebel leaders not to suffer our army to make its way as far as Bull Run a second time. The battery serves both to check an advance from Washington, and cover the enemy's communication in case they were threatened upon his undertaking an attack at the Chain Bridge.

Credit of the Government.—The London Economist says that if the north has credit and the south no credit, this advantage more than counterbalances ten Massassau defeats. But in reality the north has the ready cash; and it does not intend to be indebted to foreign capitalists for the means to carry on the war. The subscriptions to the national loan in New York on Saturday amounted to $2,502,096. In Philadelphia people are anxious to invest in the loan, and the subscriptions already amount to about three millions. And the treasury notes are bound to go like hot cakes. Every man, woman and child who can raise fifty dollars will want to be a creditor of the government.

RIVER GUNBOATS.—The six gun-boats building at St. Louis are rapidly approaching completion. They are of a peculiar construction, their hulls being similar to the light-draught Mississippi steamers, and their upper works being angular, in the shape of an equilateral triangle. These boats will be plated with $\frac{1}{2}$ inch wrought iron, and the bows will be encased in steel, the whole structure being so light that they will not draw over four feet when they have received their entire armament. From the shape of them, as they appear, no shot or shell of any calibre could be productive of any damage, and the men who work the guns are effectually protected from the fire of the enemy.

SINGULARLY OCCUPIED.—Col. Hovey, late principal of the State Normal University, is now in command of a regiment of teachers at Camp Butler, Illinois. The camp reporter of the State Register, in describing the regiment, thus tells how they pass their leisure hours: He says:

North-east of the lake the normal regiment, under command of Col. Hovey, is encamped. Passing through it you will notice the immense superiority of intellectual culture over the less spiritual training of the corps militaire. They are engaged in reading, or setting their equipage in good order, or entertaining each other with recitals of their past lives, and indulging in baseless conjecture on the future!

Gen. H. C. Bull, formerly of this city, has enlisted for the war, and is a first lieutenant in a company formed at Independence, Iowa. He is likely to receive the appointment of major of his regiment.

It is said, and we hope it is true, that there is some probability that Wisconsin will get the benefit of the swamp lands which Gov. Randall caused to be surveyed the year or two since.

Rifled cannon of great capacity are now being supplied to our navy in large numbers. Eighty pounds have been turned out in the navy yard at Washington, and tested by Com. Dahlgren. These effective weapons will far exceed all others in range and accuracy.

We advise the operators of this Union movement to compel Booth to keep within his own kennel.—Madison Patriot.

The same advice is given on the other side in relation to Pump Carpenter. We have heard the friends of the Union movement declare that if Pump Carpenter and Booth had kept out of the convention, all would have been well.

BY TELEGRAPH.

PROCLAMATION.

HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPT., U. S. A., St. Louis, September 12, 1861.

The Major General commanding the western department, having satisfactory evidence that Thos. L. Sneed, of this city and county of St. Louis and State of Missouri, has been taking active part with the enemies of the United States in the present insurrectionary movement against its government, and the military commission now in session at the arsenal in this city having reported the facts to these headquarters, as the result of its deliberations, the major general commanding has executed and ordered to be published the following deeds of manumission:

DEED OF MANUMISSION.

WHEREAS, Thomas L. Sneed, of the city and county of St. Louis, state of Missouri, has been taking an active part with the enemies of the United States, in the present insurrectionary movement against the government of the United States. Now, therefore, I, John Charles Fremont, Major General commanding the western department of the army of the United States, by authority of law, and the power vested in me, as such commanding general, declare, Hiram Scott, heretofore held to service or labor, by Thomas L. Sneed, to be free, and forever discharged from the bonds of servitude, giving him full right and authority to have, use, and control his own labor or service, as to him may seem proper, without any accountability whatever to said Thomas L. Sneed, or any one to claim by, through or under him.

And this deed of manumission shall be respected and treated by all persons, and in all courts of justice, as the full and complete evidence of the freedom of said Hiram Scott.

In testimony whereof, this act is done at headquarters of the western department of the United States, in the city of St. Louis, and state of Missouri, on this 12th day of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-one, as is evidenced by the departmental seal hereto affixed by my order.

J. C. FREMONT,

Major General Commanding.

Done at the office of the provost marshal in the city of St. Louis, this twentieth day of September, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, at 9 o'clock in the evening of said day.

Witness my hand and seal of office, here-to annexed. J. C. FREMONT,

Brigadier General, Provost Marshal.

[The deed to Frank Lewis is precisely like the above, with exception of the name.]

Sound Doctrine for the Times.

Thomas Francis Meagher, in his speech at the festival to the 69th regiment at Jonas Wood's, Aug. 29th, says:

To me at all events, the potency of the national government, the honor and glory of the national flag, are of infinitely higher value than the regency at Albany, the Tammany wigwam, Mozart Hall or the Pewter Mug.

Nor shall I enter on behalf of the liberty of the press or the liberty and immunities of the citizen restrain me in the active allegiance I owe the nation and its executive, now that the rights and authority of both are jeopardized. The integrity of the national domain, the potency of the national government, the reputation of that tranquil system of election, without which no popular government can have legitimacy, consistency and force—these considerations are far dearer to me, and I claim them to be of far more vital consequence than the liberty to promulgate sedition, or the liberty to conspire.

Such liberties must succumb to the demands of the crisis, the public safety, the discipline and efficiency of the army, and the attitude of the revolt. Within the range of the laws, the pioce, the courts, the properties and interests of the community, let them have full swing in the days of peace. Such days have their peculiar sanctities,—more than this, they have their recognized and favored abuses of popular institutions and prerogative, and the fiercest or foulest sheet that is scribbled in the coal-hole or the garret, as well as the most faithless citizen among us may be permitted, the one, to scatter broadcast, and the other to drop in crevices and corners, the seeds of disaffection against the government, without fear of punishment.

Hardee was falling back on Porochabut when the Missourians dispersed with the intention of returning home under Gamble's proclamation, and becoming good citizens, but were informed here that the governor's proclamation was abrogated by declaring martial law.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 13.

The governor yesterday vetoed the resolutions in reference to confederate troops. Both houses then passed them over his veto.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.

W. H. Winder, recently arrested for loyalty to the government, was sent to Fort Lafayette this afternoon. His correspondence seems to have been very extensive with Jeff Davis, Breckinridge and other prominent secessionists. The copies of his own letters and the original of his correspondents are in the possession of the federal authorities. In his letters he pledges his warmest sympathies with the rebels.—He assures Breckinridge that his course in the senate is approved of by large numbers of the best men of the north, who are only waiting for an opportunity to overthrow his rule.

HENSON, Mo., Sept. 12.

The correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat furnishes the following items: An agent from Glasgow informs us that Martin Green, at the head of 3,000 mounted rebels, crossed the Missouri river at that place on Wednesday and moved southward. He took possession of the steamer Sunshine which was lying at Glasgow, and used it for transporting his men and horses over the river. On board the Sunshine were 400 stand of arms, four or five rebel prisoners and a federal guard of four men. Green released the rebels and took the guards prisoners.

At West Ely, Marion county, Col. Moore of the home guards, this evening fell in with a party of from 75 to 100 secessionists.—Moore had 20 men and immediately gave battle, routing the rebels, who scattered in all directions. Two of Moore's men were killed. It is not known how many of the rebels suffered as it was dark at the time.

The bridge over the Platte river will be repaired by Saturday. Green disavows all connection with the burning or firing into trains.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 13.

A citizen of Jackson county reports that Price and Rains came within forty miles of Lexington on Tuesday, with 15,000 men and eighteen pieces of artillery. This needs confirmation.

Tom Harris captured a government agent named Smith, in Boone county, a few days since, and took from him $1,200 and a number of horses.

It was expected that Harris would take possession of Columbia, Boone county, where a bank is located.

A special to the St. Louis Democrat, Jefferson City, 13th says: "A messenger has just arrived from Booneville with dispatches. Eight hundred secessionists had attacked the federal troops at that point, and the fighting continued when the messenger left."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.

Nothing further has transpired in relation to matters connected with the western department and the command under Gen. Fremont, except it being definitely ascertained that a determined and systematic effort has been made to effect the removal of Gen. Fremont to another command, and to place the affairs of Missouri in the hands of one fitted for the duty, who would, however, be more considerate of contractors than the present commander seems inclined to be.

Some time ago a number of persons were indicted at Chicago for aiding contrabands to escape from service. In every instance, I believe, it is ascertained that the owners of the slaves are rebels. The attorney general has, I understand, ordered the indictments at Chicago to be dismissed, and the defendants discharged from custody and from their bonds. It is probable, the same course will be pursued in relation to similar indictments elsewhere.

The applications for the discharge of the minors from the army has become so frequent as to create serious annoyance to the military authorities. It is said that a general order will be issued at once to prevent any discharge upon such grounds in the future.

ARM'S AND EQUIPMENTS FOR VIRGINIA.

Gov. Pierpont has obtained from the federal government an order for fifty thousand of the best rifles in the service, together with equipments in full for ten regiments of troops. The arms and accoutrements have probably arrived before this date.

There are supposed to be more than thirty thousand German soldiers in the federal army; twelve thousand have been mustered in New York.

The following is a model letter for the use of the administration:

THE ZOUAVE DRILL LAST NIGHT.—Notwithstanding the rain of last evening, the Zouave's farewell drill came off as published, and much to the gratification audience. Many members from a slight misunderstanding, came into the armory late but gallantly, to gratify our citizens who had assembled in large numbers to witness for the last time, the evolutions of this popular company.

Three hundred spectators were present on the occasion, and they gave frequent evidence of their pleasure at the surprising proficiency in execution of different movements attained in the short period of three months. The entertainment reassured our citizens of the careful, constant drill to which many of their sons and brothers have been subjected, and reflected great credit not only upon the men, but upon the skillful officers whose untiring zeal has made for the company a reputation inferior to none yet sent forward from this vicinity.

The company is rapidly filling up for the war, and will soon be ordered into quarters. The men are young, active and intelligent, and under their present efficient officers will remain as they are, a credit to themselves, their friends, and the cause in which they are enlisted. Among them are many of our most prominent young men.

Let them go forth, and may God protect and strengthen them in the virtue of their cause!

THE NEW REGIMENT.—We are informed by members of the committee for raising the new regiment in Rock and Green counties, that five hundred volunteers are now ready to go into camp, and the number is constantly increasing. The camp equipage is not yet ready, Gov. Randall having no idea that the men would be forthcoming so soon. The committee have acted with most commendable promptitude and energy, and have received most efficient aid in this work from the several town committees appointed for the purpose.

A GENEROUS AND PATRIOTIC DEED.—Mr. Guy Wheeler, of La Prairie, has presented to Dr. H. Palmer of this city, surgeon of the seventh regiment, a valuable four year old horse, to be used by the Doctor while with his regiment during the war. This is a generous act on the part of Mr. Wheeler, evincing a liberality highly commendable indeed. Those who know Mr. W. will not be surprised, however, as he is noted for his love of good horses as well as his patriotism and public spirit. "Old Rock" sends one of her best men to the field of duty, and he sacrifices much for his country in accepting the appointment. Mr. W. desires, we presume, to divide the sacrifice with him, so far as he can, and he does so in this appropriate and acceptable manner. It is a good deed worthy of mention and imitation.

EVANSVILLE LIGHT GUARD.—Lieut. E. W. Blake, of the Evansville Light Guard, and twenty men, came in to day, and are quartered at the Stevens House. It is proposed to fill up the company at Evansville, and join the Rock and Green county regiment. Lieut. Blake was with the first regiment, and has the appearance of a good officer. The volunteers are fine, soldierly looking young men, farmer's sons, who will do honor to "Old Rock" in the war against rebellion.

The Band of Hope will meet at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, in the Methodist church. The pastors of the city and the friends of the children are requested to meet with us. O. J. DEARBORN.
